ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

Officers Elected for the Current Year
—Preparations for Nov. 30.
The annual meeting of St. Andrew's society was held last evening in the Oddfellows hall, there was a large attendance and thirteen new members were elected. The following officers and committee were elected:
Honorary president, J. G. Kinnaird.
President, James McGeorge.
First vice-president, Dr. Whitelaw.
Second vice-president, John Gillespie.
Secretary, Henry Wilson.
Treasurer, Andrew Todd.
Physician, Dr. H. H. Craig.
Bard, Robert T. Anderson.
Standard Bearer, Robert Andrews.
Piper, Thomas Craig.
General Committee, John Baxter,
Robert Todd, James McMillan, R. S.
Robertson, Thomas Reid.
The next talent has been engaged for the Scotch concert to be held in the Separate school hall on the evening of St. Andrew's anniversary the 30th of November.

"If there is anything in the city charter," he said, "to prevent this, I think it should be amended, so that all officials of the city, high and low will stand on the same level."
The manufacturers with whom the city deals have expressed approval of the city's suggestion that business with them should be carried on direct with the head office, and not through Calgary agencies, by which method much time has been lost in the past.
The Canadian Westinghouse Company was the only concern to disagree.

The Automatic Telephone Company, Chicago, are shipping to city 1500 plungers to replace the plungers sent at the time of the installation of the system. The plungers are being provided free of charge.

The commissioners accepted the offer of the Ottawa Car Company to sell all motor equipment and air brakes in the six single end cars now
in course of construction.

The city treasurer was authorized to draw a check in favor of the Edmonton School Board for $75,000, on account of the current year's taxes
collected by the city.

The claim of Donald Kennedy for compensation on account of injuries sustained while in the employ of the telephone department will possibly be settled. The view expressed is that the accident occurred through Kennedy's own carelessness.

Gorman, Clancey & Grindley have assigned their contract for the construction of the Groat Ravine bridge to the Dominion Bridge Company for $37,800.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and send a rough preliminary estimate of the proposed Twenty-fourth street subway at the C. N. R. tracks.

The C. N. R. in reply to the city's claim for damages for loss of receipts by the street car department
due to the injuries to the Saskatchewan bridge through the derailment of a freight train some time ago, state that they consider the city responsible for the derailment caused by a defective frog placed on their track
by the street railway department.

CALGARY TIGERS STARS

The redoubtable Calgary Tigers, hockey champions of Alberta, will play the Edmonton Eskimos at Diamond Park on Saturday at 3:30 o'clock.

There are four particular stars on the Calgary line up, namely Ross, Dobbie, Doe, Gibson and Noel White. Short sketches of their rugby careers will be interesting to the fans who intend viewing the game on Saturday.

Ross, the Captain

Walter Ross, captain, plays quarter on the team. He is only 22 years old and weighs 168. He learned all about rugby while at school in Toronto. He played for the Argos of Toronto in the Junior O. R. E. U. in 1906, intermediate in 1905 and Senior in 1907, and a year later Inter-Provincial. He came to Calgary in 1908 and was his first game in Calgary for Hillhurst and for the Tigers in their championship game against Edmonton in the same year. The following year the Tigers grabbed him from Hillhurst, and he has played for them in every game since. His real position is full back, but this year he jumped into quarter to fill a weak position. While playing Inter-Provincial in 1907 he was one of the stars of the league.

Noel White, End Wing

Noel White, the outside wing player is one of the best and fastest in Western Canada. He is twenty-four years of age, weighs 165 and is an all round athlete. He learnt rugby in Ottawa and played for Ottawa seconds in the seasons 1907-8. His first game with the Tigers was last year when he played a very consistent and brilliant game. White also played on the Tiger hockey team and gave valuable service in helping to win the city championship. He is a short, distant, sprinter and besides is an expert punter. He won several important races for game pudding at the University of Toronto. On the rugby field he is a hard tackler, and carries the ball well and a hard man to stop Bruce Stuart. He is with the Jaynes Lumber Co.

John (Doc) Gibson

Jack (Doc) Gibson is one of the heavy men of the team but he is also very fast. He plays middle wing and with his 215 lbs. of weight is a very valuable man on a rugby team. He learnt most of his football in the States where he played for Detroit college and Michigan university. After that he played in the East. He joined the Tiger team last season when he was reinstated into amateur ranks as a newcomer to the province by the Alberta Association. He managed the Tiger hockey team and mainly through his efforts the Tigers won the championship. As a hockey player Doc surpasses even the best players in the province. He played hockey in Eastern Canada, and for several years played in the International league with Pittsburgh, Houghton and Calumet.

He has proved of great value to the Tiger Rugby club. He has the weight, carries hard, and can back the scrum. He is also a good soccer player and was one of the players that went to the Old Country for Galt several years ago. He is a real estate magnate, and a candidate for alderman in Ward 1.

Dobbie, the Halfback

William Dobbie is one of the pioneers of the Tiger club. Last year he captained the team to victory in both the city and provincial series. He has played for the team since organization in 1908. His position is centre halfback. Dobbie is one of the best backs in the West, a sure catch and in shape. He knows the game and has been a leader in the team since his first year. He is responsible for the Tigers' success. He is twenty-three years of age, weighs 165 lbs. He learnt the game in Hamilton, the home of good footballers. He is also an executive member of the Hockey club and played for them in 1908-9, but last winter did most of his work on the sideline. Through business pressure Dobbie had to resign the captaincy of the rugby team, although it was his, had he been able to accept.

A. H. H. A. Meeting

A annual meeting of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association will be held at the Alberta Hotel, Red Deer, on Saturday, November 12th, at 8 p.m.

It is desirable that all clubs desiring to enter teams in the Association this year shall be represented at the annual meeting.

Any persons who have participated in professional sports and desire reinstatement should make the necessary application and send affidavits stating the nature of the offence in order that their several cases may be decided upon at this meeting. Copies of the constitution may be had on application to the secretary, C. H. Graben, Stratford.

PROVINCIAL LEA- GUE MEETING

The organization of the Provincial New Prover hockey League held at Red Deer last night provided a bloomer. Only Steve Clancy and Joe Moir of Calgary put in an appearance, so consequently nothing was done.

GRANITE CURLING MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Granite Curling Club this evening in the rink at 8 o'clock. A full turn-out is requested.

TWO LEADING JOURNALISTS

Messrs Marlowe and Maxwell Pay a Visit to Edmonton.

A FEW IMPRESSIONS

In Regard to Imperial Topics—Former Says Universal Free Trade Will Come.

Two gentlemen prominent in British journalistic circles visited Edmonton yesterday in the person of Thomas Marlowe, editor of the London Daily Mail, and W. Maxwell, the well known war correspondent, also connected with the Mail. Messrs Marlowe and Maxwell have just completed a tour of the United States from New York to San Francisco, and are now on their way home via Canada. On their return to England Mr. Maxwell will write a series of articles on this country.

The Daily Mail, of which Mr. Marlowe is the editor, is in the front rank of English journals. It is independent Conservative in politics. The paper publishes a weekly over-seas edition dealing to a great extent with colonial matters and consequently Mr. Marlowe is very much interested in present day conditions in Canada.

A Capital reporter was accorded an interview with the distinguished visitors yesterday when Mr. Marlowe made some very interesting comments on current topics.

Referring first to the tariff situation in the old country, he stated that the people of Great Britain had been born and bred under a system of free trade, that policy would probably stand. The present agitation for the creation of a tariff was for an object. A tariff could be used as a weapon to universal free trade.

"Don't know a thing," said Bruce Stuart, when asked about the hockey situation. Bruce has a corner in the boot and shoe trade and is now accommodating the bare-footed public.

HOW EDMONTON LOOKED

(Calgary Herald)

"Edmonton was not in the class of the Tigers. They were not headed, they were not in the same machine. They were certainly the equal of the Tigers in grit and nerve, but that was about all. When they played on the line in defence for the Eskimos, was a brick wall in defence all by himself, doing a large amount of tackling for the Edmonton aggression. In ground gaining, O'Donohue was the best. He is a well built, powerful person who seemed to have most of the dash and cleverness of the Eskimos on offence. Again and again he made remarkable gains through or around the Tiger line.

Little Dykes, at full back played his usual sturdy game, and Dobbie's superiority of foot took great labor upon the little back, which he performed with great vigor and wrought iron endurance in the subsequent battering that was a joy to behold. He was the fumbled little, but that was almost excusable, for he certainly had much more than his share of the work.

IF WIFE IS A GADABOUT, COURT SAYS LOCK HER OUT

Brooklyn Magistrate Says Any Husband Has Right to Act When Woman Neglects Home.

New York Nov. 3.—"Any man that is right to lock his wife out of his house if she is a gadabout and does not attend to her duties." This edict handed down today by Magistrate Howard P. Nash in Brooklyn for the general edition of all hen-pecked husbands, and particularly for the benefit of Jacob L. Lyson, a hard working mechanic.

Mrs. Rose Lysondecker had Jacob summoned on court on the charge that he locked her out of their house three nights ago and refuse to allow her to return.

"I am a hard working man, your honor," said Lysondecker. "But my wife, I am sorry to say, is a gadabout. She does nothing but go to dances, bridge-whist parties, and other social affairs that keep her out late nights and nearly every afternoon. She keeps me to wait on the dishes, cook and take care of our four year old daughter, besides my regular occupation." After giving his opinion of gadabouts, Magistrate Nash dismissed the summons.

PRIVY COUNCIL SETS PRECEDENT

Judge Taylor reserved judgment in the case of International Harvester Co. vs. Hiscow, in the district court this morning pending the result of an appeal before the Privy Council in London and in the case of Stuart vs. Bank of Montreal, which resembles in many points the one being tried in the local courts.

Mrs. Harriet Hiscow some time ago gave key of security on a debt to her husband, a charlie merchant, on certain property to the extent of $210. This mortgage she is moving to get set aside on the grounds that her husband was made to her, and that she did not receive advice in the case from either her husband or a disinterested third party.

The case is a very peculiar one and Judge Taylor in reserving judgment said that his decision would have to be governed by that of the Privy Council in the case now pending before them.

of Sultan Abdul Hamid. The assassination of King Carlos of Portugal, a couple of years ago was also covered by Mr. Maxwell for the Standard.

Several months ago, Mr. Maxwell had an interview with the deposed King Manuel of Portugal. "He is a bright young man," said Mr. Maxwell, to the Capital, "but of unformed character."

Regarding the overthrow of the monarchy in Portugal, Mr. Maxwell stated that the republican form of government would be given a trial.

"It is hard to foresee, however," he said, "what will happen in such a turbulent country as Portugal."

This is Mr. Maxwell's fifth trip to Canada. On two other occasions he accompanied the present King George Fifth. The first was at the time of his tour on the Duke of Cornwall and York and the latter on the occasion of the Quebec Tercentenary in 1908.

A LAND CASE IN SUPREME COURT

The possession of 80 acres of land which changed hands in 1882 was the subject of litigation in the case of Harris & Harris vs. Keith in the Supreme Court yesterday morning.

The matter is ancient history and goes back to ante-bellum days of 1882 when the Edmonton and Saskatchewan Land and Colonization Co. was formed. It's avowed purpose among others was to build grist mills and saw mills at Clover Bar and for this purpose they cast covetous eyes on the south half of the north east quarter of 20-32-3 west of the fourth meridian. Keith had pre-empted this quarter at the same time that he homesteaded the south-east quarter on the request of Sir James Macleod, government land agent and local agent of the colonization company, ceased the land in question to the company in return for land elsewhere.

Then the rebellion came. The company used the land for building on other purposes and Keith never got his property in exchange, so accepting the fortunes of war, he went ahead and cropped the land, continuing to do so right up to the present.

Meanwhile the company wound up. All stock was turned in and the shareholders received a certain amount of land in return for stock in their possession.

The two Marries who are plaintiffs, paid 25 per cent. on 105 shares of $100 stock and received in return 960 acres among them, the 80 acres in question of which they are now the registered owners.

The question is entirely one of law whether Keith by long occupation is entitled to retain the property in his possession.

K. W. McKenzie, Dominion Land Agent, was one of the witnesses called this morning. This evidence was quite of an official nature, however.

The case will be continued this afternoon.

The trial of the Clover Bar land case was continued yesterday afternoon in the Supreme Court, and good many obscure facts brought out, principally the negotiations between Keith, the company and the Department of the Interior. A number of letters were produced showing that Keith had not made any claim for the land at the time.

"So you didn't claim the land," said Mr. Maxwell. "That is all we could find," said Mr. Maxwell.

"Oh, well, that was in the days of the Conservative regime," rejoined Mr. Maxwell.

Another point made by Mr. Maxwell for the Harris was that Keith had never paid any taxes for the land. In fact in 1902 he had deliberately allowed the plaintiffs to pay the taxes for him and had allowed the north half of his pre-emption to be sold for taxes.

"So you didn't claim the land," said Mr. Maxwell. "And you don't claim it now."

"I don't claim that it is mine but claim that it should be mine and have come here to get this Lordship's decision," replied Mr. Keith.

Going back Mr. Biggar cross-examined the evidence as to how far the several parts of the empire to which they had purchased a large block of land and on this they put a large number of men and teams and erected a boarding house and stables to accommodate them. But all their problems achieved as to wells and town seem to have never materialized for the boarding house and stables were the only buildings erected. The company were instructed by the government in 1886 to sell back to Keith 80 acres of his pre-emption, but he never did so whatever the reason. The whole proceedings was characteristic of the times and easy methods of early days when a government and agent acted for a colonization company. In 1900 when the land was becoming valuable the Harris appeared on the scene and Keith had to the fact that the land was not registered in his name. Hitherto he had cropped part of it and used the rest as pasture, and on the judge's interpretation of this as right full occupation the case rests.

A want ad in the Daily Capital will be repeated a few times, and that long haul for work and put "pay-day" on your calendar again.

DEATH OF VETERAN OF REBELLION

Peter Hourie, Half-Breed Fast Friend of the Whites

The Regina Leader records the death of Peter Hourie, a famous half-breed, who, to quote the Regina newspaper, in 1881 was chosen to accompany and act as interpreter for the Marquis of Lorne, at that time Governor-General. He went with the party to Battleford, and a more than ordinary friendship sprang up between this ruler of Indians and the ruler of whites. It was at this period that an incident arose which marked Hourie as an ordinary half-breed.

Mr. Dawdney had in his possession a box containing $10,000, which he desired taken from Battleford to Fort Qu'Appelle. With hardly any notice the box was handed to Hourie, who for three days travelled the dangerous trail in the company of a riding in an old buckboard and taking more than ordinary precaution with his valuable trust. At night he slept in his tent and by day he journeyed on, having with him no escort and being under the suspicion of reds and whites scattered over the prairie.

The Rebellion

But it was with the famous Riel Rebellion that the name of Hourie will be for ever associated. Peter was not on the spot at the time the rebellion broke out, but in response to an urgent message sent him from Qu'Appelle station by Mr. Dawdney, to that point and then went on to Battleford. Arrived there, Gen. Middleton returned with him to Qu'Appelle.

It was the General's desire to send a message to Prince Albert. That day he had been telegraphing for some one to take despatches through, but being unable to get anyone, had called in Peter Hourie. Peter told him that no white man would ever get the despatches through, and added, "Telegraph to Humboldt and ask if Tom Hourie is there."

The General did so, and, finding Tom was there, asked him if he would take the message through. Tom had commercial instincts and wanted to know the pay. Said Peter to the General: "Tell him his father wants him to take the message through." There was no more question of pay.

Appointed Interpreter

At the close of the rebellion, Peter Hourie was appointed official interpreter to the Indian Office in Regina, being transferred later to the Crooked Lake Reserve, where he acted as farm instructor for the Sakejina's band.

Half-breed though he was, associated with Indians as he did, having at heart their every need, Hourie was by no means a savage or unkempt red Indian.

He was a man of great sincerity, one of nature's gentlemen, and a man whose every word could be taken as truth. By the Indians he was called "the man whose tongue was not split," one to whom they looked for guidance and whose word they accepted as law.

Of great natural intelligence and with an insatiable appetite for knowledge, the story is told that while in the Hudson's Bay service he purchased an old dictionary for 45¢ and picked out certain words for use in his dealing with the white man.

EDMONTON HOCKEY MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Edmonton Hockey executive this evening in the Young Liberal Club. A full turn-out is requested as there is much important business to be transacted.

MODERN LIFE WOULD BE TOO HARD ON THE NERVES IF IT WERE NOT FOR WANT ADVERTISING!

The pace of life has become tense. Worries, disappointments, up-sets at home and office, losses, discouragements seem to multiply as daily life becomes more complex.

The property owner, who MUST have a steady income from rents or lose his property, is "racked" by the untimely defection of a tenant. Some classified advertising quickly retrieves his loss—and quies his nerves!

The salary earner unexpectedly loses his position—and his peace of mind. The strain would shortly "break" something in his nervous system if, once more, want advertising did not find the better job—and restore to him his mental equilibrium.

In every phase of the city's life, every day, the want ads play the part of the peace-maker. They SERVE you and me at some crisis in our lives—and keep the modern pace and tension from proving too fast and tight for us.

Truly, the want ads ARE FOR SERVICE!

GROWTH OF THE CITY'S INDUSTRIES

Grand Trunk Industrial Commission
Indicate Course It Should Take
W. P. Fitzsimmons, Commissioner of Industries for both the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived in the city yesterday in his private car on his first visit to the city. Mr. Fitzsimmons has made a specialty of studying industrial development in the United States and Canada. In Mr. Fitzsimmons' opinion, the growth of a city industrially depends more upon the development of small concerns, already established to branch out into large fields of manufacturing, than the investment of large sums of money in factories in the way of permits and utilities and the efforts of public departments to secure branch factories of industries established elsewhere.
Mr. Fitzsimmons has been looking into conditions existing in the towns along the line of the G. T. P. Last night he spent some time in conversation with Secretary Fisher of the Board of Trade, and this morning left for the east.

MR. THOM APPOINTED

To the Chief Clerkship of the Department of Agriculture

James M. Thom was yesterday appointed chief clerk and secretary of the Department of Agriculture in succession to J. A. Jaffrey, appointed assistant to Provincial Librarian Blue Fisher. Mr. Thom has been private secretary to Hon. C. R. Mitchell.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

This morning at Red Deer, Byron Winters, of Wetaskiwin, who has just completed three months at Fort Saskatchewan for vagrancy, will come up for trial on a charge of burglary.
Winters, and a man named Greenberg broke into S. Lee's house at We-taskiwin, and stole $95. Greenberg was soon caught and evidence given at his trial implicated Winters, who was then serving his time for vagrancy.

DISCUSS MEDICAL TERM IN THIS CASE IN COURT

"What is gastritis?" asked Mr. Big-gar, when an application was made by Mr. Robertson to have the case of Magnus vs. McDonald adjourned for a week on account of Mr. McDonald being confined to his bed with "gastritis," and under the doctor's care.
"It is a catarrhal condition of the stomach," replied Mr. Robertson.
"Is indigestion," asked Mr. Big-gar.
"No, but indigestion might be gastritis. In fact, several things come under the head of gastritis. 'Stomach-ache' is gastritis.
I did not appear, though that gastritis is solely and simply 'stomach-ache'."

ABOUT TOWN.

J. Rand Morgan, aged twenty, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Burd
Morgan, died yesterday afternoon.
Mr. Morgan had been suffering for the past two months from chronic appendicitis. The funeral will take place from the home at 813 Ottawa avenue on Saturday at 2 p.m. The Rev. F. W. Patterson will conduct the service.

The number of men fined for drunk-ness in the police court this morning, was seven.

Ally Millar was fined $1.00 and costs by the police magistrate this morning for leaving his horse hitched to a wagon on Athabasca avenue, insufficiently secured.

Mr. Foster, the Dominion Inspector of Police, has left Edmonton for Calgary. Mr. Foster has left his assistant to complete the work at the Edmonton Penitentiary, of taking the photographs and thumb prints of the convicts. It is expected that he will finish up the work by Saturday next.

SIR RUPERT GUINNESS HERE
Sir Rupert and Lady Guinness and
Hon. M. O'Sullivan, who arrived here yesterday afternoon from the south on their private car paid a visit to the Board of Trade to gain information
as to opportunities of investment.
They were much impressed with what they saw of the Canadian West and looked forward to a very favorable field
for placing capital.

Sir Rupert represents very large interests in London, is a member of the famous Guinness firm of brewers and matters of world-wide fame.

The party left by C. N. R. for the East last evening.

G. T. P. COMMISSIONER HERE
The visit of the G. T. P. commissioner of industries, William P. Fitzsimmons, who arrived last night in his private car from the east, has, so Mr. Fitzsimmons states, no particular significance for Edmonton. He is of course interested in the city on account of the large number of agricultural fields, and the valuable eye-deposit, which point to the city's becoming an industrial centre.
Mr. Fitzsimmons leaves for the east again today owing to having received a wire containing news of the death of a near relative. Mr. J. E.
Dalrymple, general traffic manager,
was coming to Edmonton, when he was recalled by the news that his wife had met with a serious accident,
driven down out of a rig while driving in Montreal.

ing her home in Bird Lake.

FLEES WITH GIRL, QUARRELS; RETURNS; WEDS HER MOTHER

Pair in Elopement from Minneapolis to Chicago Clash on Way and Young Woman Says Him Nay

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 3.—The finale in the West Hotel elopement has upset all forecasts. On Monday the report was sent out that J. L.
Rodney and Miss Daisy Porter had left Chicago to go to Chicago, and after Mr. Rodney had paid attention for months to the young woman's mother, Mrs. R. M. Porter.
When the couple left they were Mrs. Porter to meet them in Chicago saying that they had gone there to be married. Mrs. Porter left the same afternoon and upon reaching Chicago found her daughter, and Mr.
Rodney, but they were not then on speaking terms.
According to the story told by Mr.
Rodney, who returned yesterday to get articles forgotten in his flight, he had a quarrel with Daisy on the way to Chicago, and by the time they had reached there she positively refused to marry him, saying she could not be so mean to her mother. When Mrs. Porter heard the story and the three talked the matter over, Rodney proposed the carrying out of the original plan, and he and Mrs. Porter were married.

DINERS BAR OUT VANDERBILT DOG

New York, Nov. 3.—Owing to the strenuous objections by several fashionable patrons of Delmonico's, Mrs.
W. K. Vanderbilt Jr. no longer dines in public with one who has been her constant companion since her arrival from Europe.
Mrs. Vanderbilt's companion has been banished from a seat beside the young society matron in the main dining room in the Fifth avenue restaurant and is now forced to dine in the "ordinary."

Although the ordinary is set apart
for valets and other servants, Mrs.
Vanderbilt's companion has not been heard to complain. Now and then he lets out a joyous bark as some choice morsel is handed to him, but nothing more.

Up to last Wednesday, when the revolt came, Mrs. Vanderbilt had appeared frequently at Delmonico's with a little French poodle scarcely larger than a doll's snuff huddled contentedly
in her arms.

She bore the little creature to her accustomed table and fed him tidbits which the head waiter fetched at her direction. Most of the fashionable Delmonico habitués thought Mrs.
 Vanderbilt and the dog made a pretty picture.

But there were others who were so seriously disturbed that they demanded the dog's removal. Protests were made to the head waiter and then to the proprietors. After a lengthy consultation a committee of one was appointed to wait upon Mrs.
 Vanderbilt. The committee, all assemble, told Mrs. Vanderbilt of the objections of the other patrons.

"They have threatened to leave if the dog dines here again," was the message conveyed as diplomatically as possible to the society leader. This was last Wednesday and the pet poodle was cuddled up in the arms of its mistress.

"O, well," replied Mrs. Vanderbilt, with a sigh, "I suppose my little pet must go. But it does seem a shame."
That same day the poodle was banished to the ordinary. And the maids and valets say the poodle has a better time than when it was above stairs.
